CURLING

Rinks Drawn for Competition

The knights of the broom have been having a busy time in the rink during the favourable (for curling) weather of the past week, and a number of very enjoyable practice games have been played. The spectators' room has been lined with benches, and ladies and other visitors interested in the sport can follow the course of play in warmth and comfort. Both rinks are in operation, and a draw has been made of teams to play in a competition for handsome prizes presented by the President and Vice-President, which is now in full swing. As the ice may not last long, curlers should avail themselves of the opportunity. Each rink will play every other rink, which means a large number of games.

The following is a list of the rinks drawn, the skips, however, having the right to play their men in any order they may deem fit. In case of the absence of members of a team, skips will be permitted to substitute not more than two players from other rinks, who must play in the lead and second positions.

W. Lloyd Jones, P. B. Willits, Dr. Gaddes, S. T. Elliott, skip.

WESTBANK NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. Pellew is paying a visit to Vernon, and staying with Mr. Garroway.

Mr. J. Campbell has joined Mr. F. Bouvette's logging camp and will be there for several weeks working with his team.

Mr. H. De Lautour is engaged in erecting a residence on his brother's property in the neighbourhood of Shannon Lake.

Several people from this district went down to Peachland to the dance given by Messrs. Eyr & Cutbill, to celebrate the opening of their new store and residence.

The new schoolhouse will be ready for occupation in a week or so, when school will be moved there from the old building, where it is at present being carried on.

We regret to announce the death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Welch, which took place a day or two ago at Glencoe. The baby had been ailing for several days, and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents.

The "hard times" party, a box social on Friday last week was a distinct success, although the severe weather compelled the absence of those from a distance, thereby making the attendance smaller than it would otherwise have been, but a very enjoyable evening was spent by all present. The suggestion of hard times was carried out by wearing of overalls and sweaters or working shirts by the men (no white collars being allowed), while the ladies wore cotton dresses of the simplest patterns.

Mr. Robert Mullen, claims to have invented a monoplane which will revolutionize the science of navigation. The Australian airman has built a machine called "the Boomerang," which automatically rights itself and in the trickiest wind maintains a perfect balance and makes aviation as safe as motoring.

CITY COUNCIL

The Old and The New

The last meeting of the Council of 1910 was held on Saturday evening, with Mayor Sutherland and Ald. Cox, Jones, Leckie, and Harvey in attendance.

A request from the Provincial Health Officer for the health report of the city was referred to the Health Officer.

On motion, the financial statement for 1910, as prepared by the City Clerk and audited by Mr. G. A. Fisher, was adopted and ordered to be printed in one of the local papers.

The draft lease to the Aquatic Association of the site occupied in the Park by the Pavilion and grand-stand caused some discussion in regard to a clause giving the City the right of taking over the property of the Association before termination of the lease, and Mr. G. C. Rose, president of the Association, was asked by the Mayor to state the views of the Association on the matter. Mr. Rose pointed out that the draft lease corresponded in every particular with the agreement granted under seal by the Council of 1909, and the provision enabling the City, should it so desire, to take over the buildings, etc., of the Association at any time on reimbursing it for all capital outlays irrespective of wear and tear, had been put in by mutual agreement. The clause was necessary to protect the Association in the sale of stock, as the enterprise was of such a nature as not likely to be productive of large dividends, and it would not have been possible to sell many shares, unless the shareholders had been assured of the return of their capital, while they might be willing to take chances on earning no interest on it. He thought the Association should receive all possible consideration from the Council owing to the public benefits conferred by the provision of free bathing accommodation for children and the erection of the pavilion, grand-stand, etc., which added to Kelowna's attractiveness as a summer resort.

Ald. Leckie agreed as to the usefulness of the Association and thought it deserved fair treatment, indeed he considered that it had given itself the worst of it in the lease.

It was finally decided to lay the matter over until another meeting, to permit of certain clauses in the lease being re-drafted in order to clear up possible ambiguities.

By-Law No. 83, to borrow money for additions to the power plant, was reconsidered and finally passed.

A final plan of the sub-division of the Cemetery made by Mr. R. H. Parkinson, P.L.S., was approved.

The Mayor suggested that the time was opportune to redraft the whole of the Fire Limit's By-Law, the amendment of which they had been considering at previous meetings, so that provision could be made for the improvement of existing wooden buildings, especially residences, by the addition of verandahs or other improvements. By making the By-Law flexible to a certain extent, no doubt many wooden buildings now unsightly could be made attractive, while, under a stringent By-Law, they would remain in their present condition for years.

Ald. Leckie thought difficulties would be created by any such provision.

Ald. Cox, on the contrary, believed the By-Law was capable of improvement, and expressed himself as in favour of revising it throughout.

Ald. Jones thought the eastern limits of the district should be amended so as not to include the residential portion of Ellis St.

The Mayor favoured including Chinatown in the new area, and on his suggestion, the By-Law was left in the hands of a committee consisting of himself and Aldermen Cox and Jones.

The City Clerk stated that Dr. Knox had requested permission to erect one long tie pole or four single tie posts in front of his office, and a similar request had been made by Mr. N. D. McTavish, on behalf of the Central Okanagan Lands, Ltd., for a single tie post.

Permission was granted to the applicants to put in single tie posts, Ald. Jones objecting to long tie poles on the ground of unsightliness.

Ald. Cox reported that he had made enquiry into the necessitous case reported by the Kelowna Benevolent Society, and found the woman badly in need, so he had taken the responsibility of ordering some necessities for her.

On the suggestion of the Mayor that a vote of thanks be tendered the retiring aldermen for their valuable services during the year, it was moved by Ald. Cox and Jones, and carried unanimously, That this Council place on the minutes its appreciation of the excellent work done by Ald. Chas. Harvey on the Board of Works, and Ald. T. W. Stirling on the Finance Committee.

In tendering the vote of thanks, the Mayor expressed the hope that some day they might all meet once more round the Council table.

Ald. Harvey, in returning thanks, said he had enjoyed being in the Council and had his professional duties permitted he would like to have continued municipal work.

The last resolution passed by the retiring Council was moved by Ald. Harvey and Jones, and read as follows, That we appreciate the very fair treatment accorded the City Council by the local press in reporting the proceedings of the different sessions.

Mr. G. C. Rose responded for the local press gallery in a few words, and the proceedings came to an end.

The first meeting of the new Council was held on Monday evening, the members present being the Mayor and Ald. Jones, Leckie, Dalgleish and Copeland. Ald. Cox was unable to attend, being called away to Penticton on business.

The Mayor submitted a rough draft of committees, according to which each alderman would serve on two committees, as follows—

Finance, Ald. Jones, Ald. Leckie, Board of Works, Ald. Dalgleish, Ald. Copeland.

Light and Water, Ald. Leckie, Ald. Jones, Health, Ald. Cox, Ald. Dalgleish.

Help the Press!

In connection with the "boiled-down" report of the annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute, which appeared in our issue of January 5th,
we venture to appeal for consideration for the local press in regard to the days of the week on which public meetings are held. The revenue of a country weekly is too small to permit
of a staff, both reportorial and mechanical, large enough to cover meetings in the same way as a city daily, and the average rural editor is also reporter, business manager, bookkeeper, mailer and proof-reader, besides assisting occasionally in the mechanical department in time of need.
The city reporter or business manager has his regular shift of so many hours, but the country editor's shift too frequently extends into half the night, and largely because of a lack of consideration by the general public.

The great majority of the rural weeklies in Canada are published on Thursday, this arrangement being followed in order to permit of job printing being done at both ends of the week. In order to print anything like an adequate report of a meeting held on Wednesday afternoon or evening, the editor must needs work
half the night to transcribe his notes for the printers, and owing to the exigencies of time and space is usually compelled to "boil down," thus often leaving out salient matter that should be published. Most of these meetings could be held without the least inconvenience to the public on Monday, Tuesday, Friday or Saturday, and a little forethought
in this respect would be most gratefully appreciated by editor and printers alike.

There is a popular superstition that editors are the laziest beings on earth, and readers calmly overlook
the fact that news does not collect itself and verify details, nor do invisible hands run from ten to fourteen columns of reading matter
through the typewriter every week.
Let the sceptic try this last-mentioned performance himself, and we will warrant he will tire of it after,
if not before, he has finished the first column. Because of his laziness, the time of the country editor is regarded as of no particular value, so on Wednesday and Thursday, when every minute counts in the race to get the paper out on time, he must needs wear a pleasant face and appear delighted with the conversation of visitors who drop in to chat on the topics of the day, while the hands of the clock move swiftly on and the printers in the back office are gnashing their teeth at the stoppage in the preparation of the supply of copy. Callers at a newspaper office on publication day or the day previous can greatly assist the early production of the paper by making their visits brief and businesslike.

OKANAGAN MISSION NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. Gerald Roberts returned from the Coast on Saturday, where he had been staying for the past three or four months.

Like our neighbours, we have been experiencing the unpleasantness of a cold snap, rendered the more uncomfortable by an east wind.

The shack inhabited by Mrs. Hassell was the scene of what might have been a very serious fire last Saturday afternoon, but owing to the promptness of Messrs. Bert Lambly and A. H. Bell, the outbreak, which originated in a pocket of soot in the stovepipe, was speedily overcome.

The annual meeting of the lady
members of the Okanagan Mission Sports Club was held at the residence of the honorary secretary on Saturday last, but, owing to the inclement weather, only two ladies put in an appearance, and accordingly the meeting was adjourned till later in the year when the weather will allow a larger attendance.

The many friends of Mr. Charles Baillie will be very sorry to hear that he is an inmate of the Nursing Home at Kelowna suffering from the effects of frostbite. We understand that both his big toes have had to be amputated. The wearers of furs in the Old Country little think of the risks and privations incurred by those who spend their winters alone in the mountains trapping fur-bearing animals for a recompense that, taking the good years with the bad, is often totally inadequate to the dangers.

The South Kelowna Land Company
have further increased their holdings
at this end of the valley by acquiring the Bellevue Hotel, and will shortly take possession. We understand that the hotel will continue to remain under the able management of Mr. Dodd. Various alterations and additions are contemplated notably the erection of a billiard room. It is rumoured that the South Kelowna Land Company intend in a couple of years' time to erect a new and larger hotel on the lake shore.

Piano Tuning

We are glad to announce that owing to the great increase of their business, the Mason & Risch Piano Co.
have placed several good piano tuners
throughout the Province, on a salary basis, to look after the interests of their many patrons. This announcement should appeal to piano owners who have been annoyed with unreliable and incompetent tuners, as it will relieve them of any further worry as to their piano being properly cared for. These tuners carry a letter of authority from the Mason & Risch Co., and the fact of having a guarantee of such a Company as Mason & Risch behind the tuners, should be fully appreciated by the owners.

The Mason & Risch Piano Company's Factory Branch Store and district office is located at 655 Granville St., Vancouver, B. C., and throughout the Province they have over fifty agencies.—Advt.

ORIGINAL POETRY

A Tattered Flag

(NOTE.—A remarkable incident marked the raising of the flag of federal authority on the occasion of the recent transfer, carried out formally at Port Darwin, of the northern territory of Australia to the Commonwealth. It was proposed to utilize a new Australian flag, but when it was discovered that the only available flag was the manufacture of an aged Chinese resident (who, however, was naturalized for many years), vigorous objections were taken. Trouble was averted just when matters were beginning to look serious by the discovery of an old tattered European made flag. This was hoisted to the top of the flagstaff and under its ragged folds the territory entered the federation.)

They raised a flagstaff up on high,
Hard by Port Darwin's strand,
To welcome to the Commonwealth
Australia's northern land.

They bring the federal banner forth
To fling unto the wind—
But wait! The crowd will none of it.
"Tis Chinese made, they find.

"Stop!" is the cry from all around,
"That sheet shall never be
"The emblem of our Commonwealth,
"Whose sons are Britons free.

"That Chinese rag's a crime, a sign
"Of sweating shops and lies,
"Unfit to flaunt a single hour
"Beneath Australian skies."

"Gillet another flag be found,
"Home made by British hands.
"A banner worthy to be flown
"Above these British lands."

At length a worn old flag is found;
Loud is the joyful cry
As the Union Jack of Britain
Floats to the southern sky.

It was only a tattered flag
Fretted by every breeze
That blows East, South, or North or West

O'er all the seven seas.

It had waved a fearless challenge
Where the wild storm fiend flees,
Or idly drooped from the masthead
In the calm of tropic seas.

Its bright red blaze in the Arctic
Flying o'er frozen floes,
Cheered up the heart of our sailors,
Conquered the ice and snow.

In equatorial waters,
Where the cursed slavers be,
That tattered flag at the masthead
Has waved to set men free.

It has led our hosts to battle,
Making them strong to dare
Death for the honour of Britain
Or Britain's glory share.

It has showed the way to greatness,
Duty, and truth, and love,
Beautiful banner of Britain,
Frayed yet flying above.

Rod and Gun for January

Variety, and plenty of it, is the keynote of the January issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., of Woodstock, Ontario. The opening article deals with the outfit required for the backwoods, and though sportsmen
may differ on many of the trimmings, there will be a general agreement as to the essentials. This is followed by a number of personal experiences in hunting, fishing, canoeing and mountaineering throughout Canada, while a paper on the birds of Manitoba and some light verses add materially to the interest of the number and recommend it as one in which sportsmen of all tastes may find something which cannot fail to prove both pleasurable and profitable to themselves.
There are a number of items recording occurrences out of the common, showing how vastly experiences in the woods may differ and others reminding sportsmen of similar events on their own trips. The whole is redolent of the outdoors and must act
like a tonic in the wintry weather, reminding sportsmen of the joys they have had and those which they are anticipating with the keenest of pleasure in the not far distant future.

W. R. Travers, general manager of

on Friday to stealing $40,000 from penitentiary.

A CHINESE STRATAGEM.

Legend of How a Projected Invasion Was Averted.

Rajah Suran, who was one of the earliest rulers of India, overran the entire east with the exception of China, killed innumerable sultans with his own hand and married all their daughters. It is said that when the Chinese heard of his triumphant progress and learned that he had reached their frontier they became much alarmed. The emperor called a council of his generals and mandarins, and upon the advice of a crafty old mandarin the following stratagem was carried out:

A large ship was loaded with rusty nails, trees were planted on the deck, the vessel was manned by a numerous crew of old men and dispatched to the rajah's capital. When it arrived—the most wonderful part of the story is that it did arrive—the rajah sent an officer to ask how long it had taken the vessel to make the trip from China. The Chinamen answered that they had all been young men when they set sail and that on the voyage they had planted the seeds from which the great trees had grown. In corroboration of their story they pointed to the rusty nails which, they said, had been stout iron bars as thick as a man's arm when they started. "You can see," they concluded, "that China must be a very long distance away."

The rajah was so much impressed by these plausible arguments that he concluded he would not live long enough to reach China and abandoned his projected invasion.

SNEEZING.

It Must Have Been a Violent Operation Before Jacob's Time.

We frequently hear the expression "God bless you!" uttered after some one has sneezed. The expression, if we can believe Clod in his "Childhood of the World," dates back to the time of Jacob. We are told in Jewish literature that previous to his time men sneezed but once in a lifetime and that was the end of them, for the shock slew them. Jacob prevailed in prayer and had the fatality set aside on the condition that among all the nations a sneeze should be hallowed by the words "God bless you!" In the "Jataka," one of the books of the Buddhist Scriptures, we read that the expression was, "May the blessed Lord allow you to live!"

Buddha on one occasion while preaching to his disciples happened to sneeze. The priests gave vent to the exclamation, and Buddha lectured them for interrupting his discourse. "If when a person sneezes," he asked, "and you say, 'May he live,' will he live the longer?"

"Certainly not!" cried the priests. "And if you do not say it will he die any the sooner?"

"Certainly not!" was the reply. "Then," said Buddha, "from this time forth if any one sneeze and a priest says 'May you live' he shall be guilty of a transgression."—London Spectator.

The Kind Caddie:

"Once in a game," said the golfer. "I had the good fortune to be six holes up on my opponent by the time the eighth hole was reached. At the eighth green something went wrong with our reckoning of the strokes, and I claimed that I had won that hole, too, while my opponent claimed that it was halved. After a mild dispute I yielded.

"But as I moved on with my caddie I couldn't help grumbling: 'Well, you know, Joseph, I gave in. But I still think I won that hole after all.'

"The boy, with a frown, turned shocked and reproving eyes on me. Disgusted with my greed for holes, he whispered hurriedly, so that my opponent should not overhear:

"Shut up, can't you? Do ye want to break the man's heart?"—Exchange.

Laughter.

Overindulgence in laughter is reproached by Emerson. Explosions of it, he says, should be under strict control, and he quotes approvingly the saying of Lord Chesterfield, "I am sure that since I had the use of my reason no human being has ever heard me laugh." But Emerson is not altogether consistent in this matter, for, whereas in one passage he refers to laughter as a "contemptible squeal of joy," in another it becomes a "pleasant spasm," and he gratefully acknowledges "the rest and refreshment we get from the shaking of the sides." Moreover, he admits that "to see a man in a high wind run after his hat is always droll." Presumably if the man is bald and the road is muddy even Chesterfield might be led to emit a contemptible squeal.—London Chronicle.

His Practical Mind.

Sculptor (to his friend)—Well, what do you think of my bust? Fine piece of marble, isn't it? Friend—Magnificent! What a pity to make a bust of it! It would have made a lovely washstand.

A Comeback.

"Why do so many otherwise clever women write silly letters to men?" "They're probably making collections of the answers they get."—Cleveland Leader.

NEWS OF THE OKANAGAN

Penticton and Princeton Boards of Trade are co-operating to secure construction of a road through the Oaprey Lake district, which lies between Summerland and Princeton, and is one of the least known and most beautiful valleys in the Province.

The delegates who waited on the provincial cabinet last Wednesday in reference to proposed government construction, control and operation of irrigation systems in the Dry Belt, included Messrs. C. S. Smith, M. Heron, and D. McEachern, Kelowna; J. P. Lee, Vernon; W. A. Lang, and A. J. Clarence, Peachland; — Blackwood, Westbank; Thompson, Summerland; A. D. Monsees, Okanagan Centre, and Chas. Little, Mara. The delegation was also joined and supported by Messrs. A. W. Matthews, Nicola, and A. Johnston, Nelson. A number of the delegates spoke on the question, and the members of the government present promised that it would have their very careful consideration.

The temperature dropped to 28 below zero at Armstrong last week, and 22 below at Vernon, according to reports.

Fire in the warehouse of the Vernon Hardware Co., on Monday week, caused a loss of about $3,000, and further damage was prevented only by the prompt and efficient work of the Fire Brigade. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The third annual poultry show of the Northern Okanagan Poultry Association, held at Enderby last week, was a complete success, the number and quality of birds far exceeding previous displays. Upwards of 500 birds were entered from all parts of the province, the majority of entries of course, being from the Okanagan.

The Mayors of all three of the incorporated cities of the Okanagan, Enderby, Vernon and Kelowna, were chosen by acclamation last week. At Enderby, Mr. Rutman succeeded Mr. Geo. Bell, and at Vernon, Mr. H. W. Hasbani was re-elected. Mr. E. Foley Bennett was re-elected Reeve of Penticton; Mr. Ritchie reeve of Summerland, by acclamation, and Mr. W. J. Garroby to the same office for the Municipality of Peachland.

ROUSSEAU'S SHYNESS.

An Experience the Composer Had in a Country Inn.

On one occasion Rousseau composed an opera, which was performed before King Louis XV. and met with the royal approval. The king sent for him, and if he had put in an appearance he would probably have obtained a pension. He was, however, of a retiring disposition and could not bring himself to face the court. To his friends he gave as a reason his republican opinions, but his real reason was his shyness.

Accordingly he fled from the court and sought the privacy of a country inn. While he was there a man came in who began telling the company that he was the celebrated Rousseau and proceeded to give an account of the opera, which, he said, had been performed before the king with great success.

Most men in Rousseau's position would have felt nothing but contempt for the impostor, but this extraordinary man felt only pity and shame. "I trembled and blushed so," he tells us in his "Confessions," "for fear the man should be found out that it might have been thought that I was the impostor." He was afraid that somebody might come in who knew him and expose the pretender. At last he could bear it no longer and slipped out unobserved.

Very few people would treat an impostor like that.—Westminster Gazette.

PENGUINS.

The Comical Way These Queer Birds of the Antarctic Act.

"The resemblance of penguins to human beings is always noticed," says Lieutenant E. P. Shackleton in his book, "The Heart of the Antarctic." "This is partly due to the habit of walking erect. But there are truly a great many human traits about them. They are the civilized natives of these regions, and their civilization, if much simpler than ours, is in some respects higher and more worthy of the name." Of two of the photographs that appear in the book the following remarks are made:

"An emperor penguin, meeting an emperor or men or dogs, bows gravely till his beak is almost touching his breast. Keeping his head bowed, he makes a long speech in a muttering manner, short sounds following in groups of four or five. Having finished the speech, the head is kept bowed a few seconds for politeness sake. Then it is raised, and he describes with his bill as large a circle as the points of his neck will allow. If you have not comprehended he tries again. Meantime his followers are apt to get impatient. They are sure he is acting incorrectly. Then another male will waddle forward, elbow the first aside and repeat the ceremony. Both emperors and adolies move, when the surface is suitable, by tobogganing."

Wild British Cattle.

The wild cattle of Great Britain have become one of the curiosities of the bovine race in England. There are very few herds of them remaining, and most of these are diminishing from a very natural cause. Of course they are confined in parks and are jealously guarded from any admixture of alien blood. They are as wild as buffaloes and are treated in the same way as deer. In color they are white, with red ears, and historians assert that they had a large share in the evolution of the Shorthorn as it is known today. It is certain that the color mentioned very often crops up quite unexpectedly in our pedigree herds. They will probably become extinct in a few years owing to the extreme difficulty of procuring sires unrelated to the herds and yet of the same breed.—Farm and Home.

The Scented Court.

The rage for perfumes reached its height during the reign of Louis XV. Throughout the continent his court was known as the "scented court." It was then the custom when giving a large entertainment for the hostess to inform her guests what particular odor she would use for perfuming her rooms, and each guest would use that odor in making her toilet. At court a different perfume was used for each day of the week. Much more attention was paid to the use of the perfume than to soap and water, and cleanliness was not numbered among the virtues of that age.

How She Escaped.

Pauline, who had been attending school for almost two weeks, was telling of the misbehavior of some of her little classmates. At her mother's question as to whether it had ever been necessary for the teacher to speak to her Pauline answered quickly, "Oh, no, mamma." Then, "She had to speak to all the class but me this afternoon." "Why, what did she say?" "Oh, she said, 'Now, children, we'll wait until Pauline is in order.'"—Deineator.

Lost Opportunity.

"And you didn't hear of it?" inquired Mrs. Gabbie. "Not one word." "Why, I've known it for a week, so I supposed everybody heard of it."

A BIT OF CHALK.

What It Shows When Placed Under a Powerful Microscope.

Few people know what a wonderful object a bit of chalk is when examined under a microscope. Take your knife blade and scrape off a little of the loose powder, catch it on a clean glass slide and place this on the stage of a good table microscope. Use a quarter inch objective lens and illuminate the field with a cone of light from the concave side of the reflector. The powder will be seen to consist of a confused mass of beautiful tiny shells, many of them of the most curious form.

A better way, however, is to rub down a portion of chalk with an old toothbrush in a tumbler half filled with water. If you desire to prepare several slides rub on about a teaspoonful of the powder. Shake the tumbler briskly, allow the sediment to settle for a moment and then carefully pour off the milky looking water.

Repeat this until the water remains clear, and you will then have left in the bottom only perfect shells or large parts of shells. Take up a small pinch of this deposit and spread it carefully over the center of a glass slide. Dry over a lamp and if you wish to preserve the slide for future use mount it in Canada balsam, pressing out the bubbles of air beneath the cover glass.

MECHANICAL INGENUITY.

A Full Rigged Ship That a Fly's Wing Would Cover.

Many instances of mechanical ingenuity really remarkable to us in these days, when we are supposed to have advanced in learning, are related by various ancient authors. The silver sphere, "a most noble and ingenious performance," which was presented to Sultan Solymán the Magnificent by his imperial majesty Ferdinand, is mentioned by Paulus Jovius as showing and keeping time with the motions of the celestial bodies in various configurations. It was carried to Constantinople by twelve men and there put together by the artist that made it.

Mymecides, an ancient carver, was so proficient in microscopic mechanism that he made an ivory ship, with all its decks, masts, yards, rigging and sails, in so small a compass that it might have been hidden under the wing of a fly. He also made a chariot with four wheels and as many harnessed horses, which took up scarcely more room than the ship.

George Whitehead, an Englishman, made a ship, with all things pertaining to it, to move as if it sailed, upon a table. "All hands were aloft, a woman made good music on a lute, and a little puppy cried in the midship, all of which variety," says the old writer, "was pleasant and diverting."

The Vulnerable Point.

Mrs. Holt could be depended upon at almost any time to say the wrong thing with the best intentions in the world. "Nobody minds what poor dear Fanny Holt says," her friends told each other when repeating her remarks. "We know she means all right."

"Isn't it queer how differently things affect people?" one of Mrs. Holt's neighbors said to her the day after a beach picnic. "We both got tired to death, you and I. You say you've had just a little bit of indigestion, while I have this fearful blind head ache."

"Why, that's perfectly natural," said Mrs. Holt cheerily. "Of course when people are tired out it goes straight to the weakest part of them. Mine is my stomach, and everybody knows yours is your head, poor dear!"—Youth's Companion.

The Word Silhouette.

The little black pictures called "silhouettes" derive their name from Etienne de Silhouette, who was the French minister of finance in 1759. His extreme economy in matters of finance was caricatured by all classes, and any cheap mode or fashion was sarcastically called by his name. About that time these profiles were produced by casting the shadow of a face on the paper by the light of a candle and tracing about it. Because they were cheap they were called in ridicule at the minister "silhouettes," and the name has ever since been retained.—Boston Globe.

All the Printer's Fault.

"What became of that paper you were going to start in the interest of uplifting the poor tramp?" asked the interviewer.

"Ah, it fell through," confessed the great reformer, with much agitation, "and all on account of the blooming carelessness of the printer."

"Did he make a grave error?" "I should say so. You know the paper was to be named the Bar of Hope. Well, that idiot of a printer changed it to the Bar of Soap, and as soon as my constituents heard the name they started running, and they are running yet."—Chicago News.

Paradoxical Business.

"It is odd that Jinks keeps expanding his business."
"Why shouldn't he?"
"Because he is a contractor."—Baltimore American.

Parks, including Cemetery, Fire Protection, Buildings, Beautifying the City, etc., Ald. Copeland, Ald. Cox.

The Mayor said he had arranged the committees so that the aldermen in the present Council who were in charge of committees in 1910 will continue in the same position this year.

Ald. Leckie thought it would be better to have three aldermen on each committee, so as to avoid the possibility of a deadlock.

Ald. Dalgleish thought the matter could be left in the hands of the Mayor, and it was ultimately decided to accept the arrangement as stated above.

Ald. Jones urged the necessity of providing the chief of the Fire Brigade with a telephone in his home. He said Chief Jenkins lived quite a long distance from the Fire Hall, and as he worked hard at physical labour all day he sometimes slept so soundly that the siren failed to awake him in the event of a fire. The speaker went on to emphasize the importance of the Fire Brigade to the city, dwelling on the splendid work they had done at several fires in the very heart of the business district, which would have done very serious and widespread damage, if not controlled in time. The boys had done good service; nothing was more inspiring to them than a good leader, and the Council should endeavour to have Chief Jenkins present at every fire. He therefore moved that the City install a telephone in the Chief's house.

Ald. Dalgleish had much pleasure in seconding, saying that the boys of the Brigade deserved well of the City.

Motion carried.

Ald. Jones had another motion to bring up, increasing the City Clerk's salary to $120 per month. As a member of last year's Council, he voiced his appreciation of the painstaking and methodical manner in which the Clerk performed his duties, quoting the auditor's report as to the carefulness and neatness with which the books of the City had been kept. The best way to show the Council's appreciation of the value of the Clerk's services would be to pay him a proper salary, and he moved accordingly.

The Mayor explained that last year's Council had thought it advisable not to raise the Clerk's salary but to leave it to the incoming Council. He joined in Ald. Jones' tribute to Mr. Dunn, and said he had only one thing against the Clerk, which was that at one time the speaker used to look on himself as somewhat of an authority on municipal matters, but now he was beaten all to pieces by Mr. Dunn.

The motion was seconded by Ald. Leckie, and carried unanimously.

Mr. Dunn returned his sincere thanks for the kind expressions in regard to his work and for the substantial increase in his salary. He had always found the City Council very considerate and ready to assist him in his work.

The Mayor advised the various committees to get down to work as weather conditions would soon permit of operations being begun. He invited aldermen who were not on any particular committee, but had suggestions to make concerning the work of that committee, to communicate with him or with the members of the committee concerned, so as not to waste time by bringing the matters up to Council. The Light and Water Committee should take in hand the additions to the power plant, and the Board of Works should plan out the year's work on streets, for which considerably more money would be available than last year.

Ald. Jones asked whether it would be advisable to have any more gravelling done at present. He had noticed that the gravel on Pendozi St. had reached Mr. Stirling's house, the worst parts of the street thus being covered. He had told the gravelling contractors that new committees would be struck at the first meeting of the new Council, and the gravelers would have to take their orders from the new committeemen.

The Mayor was of the opinion that the work could stop now, while Ald. Copeland thought it could possibly be done cheaper now than when the roads were soft.

Robert Caldwell, the "great affidavit maker," who figured as the principal witness in the famous Druce will case, is dead in New York city, after a lengthy illness.

The Mayor pointed out that a change might be made in the grade of a portion of Pendozi St., such as widening it, and for that reason it would not be advisable to do more gravelling on it at present.

Ald. Copeland thought that other streets should have work done on them, such as Richter St.

The question of a suitable night for meetings was discussed. The Mayor expressed himself in favour of Saturday evening, when he had to be in town in any case, and the other members of the Council being agreeable, it was decided to meet on Saturday evenings for the winter, if no longer. The next meeting, accordingly, will be held on Saturday, the 21st.

Council then adjourned.

The reputation of Biggin & Poole as successful caterers at dances has spread beyond the bounds of Kelowna, and they have received a flattering testimonial in the form of a contract to supply the refreshments at a big ball—one of the most important events of the season—to be held at Pentiction on Friday night. Moral—Satisfied customers make a good advertisement.

The cold weather lasted only five days, and the return to more normal Okanagan winter conditions on Saturday was welcomed by all who object to loading themselves with clothing in the manner common to the prairies. Some of the grumblers at the unusual cold should have had a taste of the temperature experienced in the prairie and eastern provinces, compared to which our "cold snap" was a bagatelle.

Mr. D. D. Campbell, who will leave shortly to engage in business in Pentiction, was entertained by fifty or sixty of his friends to a farewell social and dance, on Tuesday evening, at the residence of Mr. D. Lloyd-Jones, kindly lent for the occasion. An enjoyable evening was spent with music and dancing. During the afternoon Mr. Campbell had been the recipient of a beautiful china cabinet from his hosts, and he feelingly expressed his thanks for their kindness.

Congratulations!

The annual meeting of Knox Church Congregation took place on Wednesday evening, 11th inst. Owing to the severity of the weather, there was not as large an attendance as last year. Mr. J. Ball was elected chairman. Very gratifying reports were presented from the Kirk Session, Board of Managers, Ladies' Aid, Young Ladies' Auxiliary and Young People's Society, showing financial balances on the right side. New Managers were appointed for the year. The Sabbath school was reported in a healthy condition. It was decided to increase the salary of the minister, Rev. A. W. K. Herdman. The cold weather last week gave plenty of opportunities for the enjoyment of hockey, and a good game was played in Haug's rink, on Friday evening, between the Shamrocks and the Fire Brigade, which the latter won by 6 goals to 4. Mr. W. Pettigrew refereed satisfactorily.

We understand that the Summerland Amateur Dramatic Society will present that successful farce, "The Brixton Burglary," at the Kelowna Opera House on Friday, February 3rd. All who remember the excellent performance the Society gave of Piner's "Schoolmistress" when last here will not fail to take advantage of the opportunity of seeing them again.—Con.

Mr. Chas. Baillie had a harrowing experience last week, and his escape from the jaws of death was due only to his dogged courage. He had been trapping and doing some prospecting of creeks on behalf of the South Kelowna Land Co., in the high mountain ranges between 25 and 30 miles south-east of Kelowna. He started for town on Monday, the 9th, and while only a short way on his journey he fell over a log in such a way as to sprain his hip badly, and he lay for several hours unable to move, during which time his feet froze. Realizing, with the increasing cold, that to spend the night as he was meant death, he made a supreme effort, and by crawling painfully about he managed to gather a few twigs and to start a fire, which he kept going constantly. The weather continually grew colder, and he had much difficulty in collecting enough wood to keep warm. In this plight he remained until Thursday evening with only a pound of raisins for food. With no hope of assistance arriving, he recognized that he would have to move to save his life, and, starting on Friday morning, he actually managed by the same evening to reach Mr. Walker's camp, about two miles from Edzell Ranch (formerly the Long property), a distance of about 22 miles. Locomotion was painfully difficult, as he could not take a full pace at a time, owing to the pain in his injured hip, as well as the condition of his feet. As soon as possible, he was taken into town and given attention at the Nursing Home. On Tuesday, it was found necessary to remove all of the toes on each foot, except the little toe, and a small portion of the foot. Mr. Baillie stood the operation well, and there is every prospect of his speedy recovery. His hands and face were also frozen but not severely enough to cause permanent injury.

TRAIN WITHOUT RAILS

For Kelowna

Contributed.

The first meeting of the Okanagan Renard Train Co., which was organized some time ago by Vernon and Kelowna capital, was held here on Monday night, when the following officers and directors were elected—Pres., M. J. O'Brien, wholesale merchant, Vernon; 1st Vice-Pres., S. T. Elliott, agricultural implement dealer, Kelowna; 2nd Vice-President, F. E. R. Wollaston, sec., Belgo-Canadian Fruit Lands Co., Kelowna; Sec. Treas., C. R. Hurt, Vernon; Directors—R. Swift, managing director, Vernon; Chas. Christian, merchant, Vernon; T. E. Crowell, contractor, Vernon; E. B. Knight, White Valley Irrigation Co., Vernon; W. J. Knox, physician, Kelowna; Chas. C. Knight, managing director, Western Pacific Development Co., and Canadian Renard Road Transportation Co., Vancouver; F. E. Parker, director, Western Pacific Development Co., Vancouver.

The object of the local company is to purchase from the Canadian Renard Road Transportation Co., a Vancouver corporation which owns and controls the patent rights for the Dominion of Canada, one of their trains which is now being assembled in Vernon, with a view to place it in operation at an early date between that point and here.

The Renard Road Train, as patented by Capt. Renard, an officer in the French Army and manufactured by the Daimler Motor Works, Coventry, England, operates on ordinary country roads, will carry 20 tons on the level at an average speed of 10 miles per hour and will take a 30 per cent. grade fully loaded, at an entire operation expense of one-tenth the cost of that of horses. The principle on which it operates is that of a longitudinal or cardan shaft which runs through the train, connection being made by universal joint couplings. This gives each truck or car over 150 h.p., and as each truck is a unit in itself there can be no break-down, the truck behind pushing the other forward. The automatic steering gear, which is operated from the locomotor, enables the whole train to turn completely around in a radius of 30 feet or to turn a sharp corner at any angle on any roads.

United States are using these trains with the greatest satisfaction, and nowhere has there been a failure. The governments of France, Germany and England have adopted them officially in their war departments. The train is not a competitor of any transportation system, but simply acts as a feeder: in other words, taking the place of horses and not being confined to two lines of steel, it is able to go into a farmer's ploughed field, pick up his crop and carry it to the nearest point of shipment at a fractional cost of that of horses.

The Renard Train should prove a great boon to the farmers and fruit-growers of this valley when they take into consideration the great tonnage of freight of all kinds now to be handled in this district, especially in view of the prevailing high prices of horses and their upkeep. In fact, the company have sufficient contracts on hand to pay them a liberal dividend on their total capitalization.

Sayers, one of the most efficient officers in the police department of Saskatchewan, who trailed two thugs from the prairies to Vancouver Island, was removed to Victoria in a dying condition as a result of a battle with the bandits at Alberni last Saturday. During the severe storm which swept across the province last week, two feet of snow fell in a little over four hours in the district between Abbotsford and Chilliwack, the temperature dropping 28 degrees during that period. The snow was accompanied by a wind which increased in strength until it attained a velocity of between fifty and sixty miles an hour.

Owing to the satisfactory results of last year, in importing game birds for this province, the Provincial Game Department has made arrangements to import this year additional pheasants, partridges and prairie chicken. Within the past two years about 1,500 pheasants have been put out in the Lower Mainland and good results have been seen. Some partridges were turned out at Arassiz last year and are doing well. Those now in the province are increasing rapidly, and it is for the purpose of having the quality of the stock kept up that the game department is introducing new birds. Prairie chicken have also been ordered from Saskatchewan to breed with the chicken now in the province, which are increasing rapidly.

Part of the Canadian Government's plan for the creation of a grain route from western farms to the British market by way of Hudson Bay, includes grain-handling facilities at Liverpool. Complaint is made by the Canadian grain producers that they have been deprived of proper profits by mixing operations in elevators, and the government has decided to go to extreme lengths to correct the evil. Canada now has cold-storage facilities at Liverpool docks for perishable products, and the proposed facilities for storing grain and preserving the grades intact is another step in the same direction.

Extra vigilance will be exercised by the immigration officials in Canada for the next few weeks, and particularly those at the ocean ports of St. John and Halifax. There is some apprehension that the anarchists who are being hunted out of England, may seek a refuge in Canada. The countries of continental Europe are now closed against this element, and with the British authorities hunting the anarchists on account of the recent riot in London, they are expected to turn their faces to the continent of America. Though their inclination would be to go to the United States it is believed that many of them might decide that the easiest way to New York would be by the way of St. John or Halifax. As there is a Canadian embargo upon characters of this sort, inspection at Canadian ocean ports will be more stringent than normal until the coronation is over at least.
